2015 UPTOWN ARTS STROLL KICK-OFF
FRIDAY, MAY 29

THE 2015 UPTOWN ARTS STROLL IS FINALLY HERE!

Welcome to the 2015 Uptown Arts Stroll. For the last seven years, every June, our community strolls our parks, restaurants, galleries, institutions and art venues to enjoy and celebrate arts and culture throughout Washington Heights and Inwood. What began as one day of arts exhibits and performances twelve years ago grew steadily under the direction of NoMAA and the Manhattan Times, to become a month-long arts festival celebrating the diversity and vibrancy of our communities uptown. This year the Stroll extended its festivities to 135 Street, West Harlem, to include the many artists and cultural institutions in our neighboring community.

Throughout the years, hundreds of artists and organizations have embraced the Arts Stroll by becoming active participants, and by organizing arts events in traditional and non-traditional venues across the neighborhood, in public spaces, restaurants, health and educational facilities, and other businesses. These artists and organizations are the soul of northern Manhattan, and constantly provide the local community and visitors innovative performances and exhibits that challenge us to explore new ideas and perspectives.

We thank and congratulate our uptown artists for making our lives better, richer and more beautiful. In that spirit, the 2015 Uptown Stroll is pleased to recognize the remarkable contributions of distinguished local artists Andrea Arroyo, Lin-Manuel Miranda, Ty Jones, and a great friend of the arts, Eduardo Gómez.

Every year the Stroll is launched at a location that symbolizes arts, culture, community, and is significant to the history and advancement of our neighborhood. We are honored to partner with Broadway Housing Communities (BHC) and the Sugar Hill Children’s Museum of Art & Storytelling (SHCMAS) to kick-off the 2015 Uptown Arts Stroll and highlight this new and innovative cultural institution. Located at the intersection of the traditionally African-American community of Harlem and the Latino community of Washington Heights, SHCMAS strives to strengthen community by providing our culturally rich neighborhood with a space where children and their families will grow and learn about Sugar Hill and the world at large through intergenerational dialogue with artists, art and storytelling. We are delighted to celebrate the imminent opening of this fabulous new art space and congratulate BHC & SHCMAS!

The Uptown Arts Stroll would not be possible without the support of our local artists, our sponsors, institutions, businesses, and elected officials. To all of you, our most sincere gratitude!

¡ILLEGÓ EL PASEO DE LAS ARTES 2015!

Queridos amigos de las artes,
Bienvenido al Paseo de las Artes 2015. Durante los últimos siete años, cada mes de junio, nuestra comunidad recorre nuestros parques, restaurantes, galerías, instituciones y lugares de interés para disfrutar y celebrar las artes y la cultura en Washington Heights e Inwood. Lo que comenzó como un día de exposiciones de artes y espectáculos hace doce años atrás, creció a un ritmo constante bajo la dirección de NoMAA y el Manhattan Times, para convertirse en un festival de las artes de un mes, que celebra la diversidad y la vitalidad de nuestras comunidades en el alto Manhattan. Este año, el Paseo extendió su fiesta a la calle 135, West Harlem, a fin de incluir a los muchos artistas y las instituciones culturales que operan en esta comunidad vecina.

A lo largo de los años, cientos de artistas y organizaciones han adoptado el Paseo de las Artes al convertirse en participantes activos, y mediante la organización de eventos artísticos en lugares tradicionales y no tradicionales a lo largo del barrio, en los espacios públicos, restaurantes, instalaciones de salud y, de educación, y otras empresas. Estos artistas son el alma de nuestro alto Manhattan, y siempre ofrecen a las comunidades locales y visitantes, innovadores espectáculos y exposiciones que nos retan a explorar nuevas ideas y perspectivas.

Agradecemos y felicitamos a nuestros artistas por hacer que nuestra vida sea mejor, más plena y más hermosa. En ese espíritu, el Paseo de las Artes 2015 se complie en reconocer las contribuciones extraordinarias de los distinguidos artistas locales Andrea Arroyo, Lin-Manuel Miranda, Ty Jones, y un gran amigo de las artes, Eduardo Gómez.

Cada año, el paseo se inicia en un espacio que simboliza las artes, la cultura, la comunidad, y que es importante para la historia y el avance de nuestro barrio. Nos sentimos muy honrados por asociarnos con Broadway Housing Communities (BHC) y el Sugar Hill Children’s Museum of Art and Storytelling (SHCMAS) en la apertura del Paseo de las Artes 2015, y de resaltar esta nueva e innovadora institución cultural. Situado en la intersección de la tradicionalmente comunidad afroamericana de Harlem y la comunidad latino de Washington Heights, SHCMAS se esfuerza por fortalecer nuestra comunidad, ofreciendo un rico patrimonio cultural comunitario con un espacio donde los niños y sus familias, crecen y aprenden acerca de Sugar Hill y el resto del mundo a través diálogo intergeneracional con los artistas, el arte y la narración de cuentas. Estamos encomendados de poder celebrar la inminente apertura de este fabuloso nuevo espacio de arte y felicitar BHC & SHCMAS!

El Paseo de las Artes no sería posible sin el apoyo de nuestros artistas locales, nuestros patrocinadores, instituciones, empresas y funcionarios elegidos. A todos ustedes, nuestro más sincero agradecimiento.

I will see you at the Stroll! ¡Espero verlos en el paseo!

Andrea Arroyo is an award-winning visual artist, activist, independent curator and consultant. Her artwork is exhibited, published, reviewed and collected extensively and is in permanent collections of The Library of Congress, The Smithsonian Institution, The National Museum of Mexican Art, The Richmond Museum and The New York Public Library, and is in many private collections in the US, Mexico, Europe and Japan. Ms. Arroyo works in a range of media including painting, drawing, illustration, site-specific installation and public art.

Ms. Arroyo’s honors include two New York Foundation for the Arts Fellowships and multiple grants from the Northern Manhattan Arts Alliance, the Puffin Foundation, the Harlem Arts Alliance and the Lower Manhattan Cultural Council. Her artwork has been published extensively including in The New Yorker and The New York Times, and has been the subject of over one hundred and fifty features in the international media.

Ms. Arroyo was selected by President Clinton as Global Citizen Award Artist, received the Groundbreaking Latina in the Arts Award, Official Artist of the Latin Grammys and named one of 21 Leaders for the 21st Century and Outstanding Woman of New York. She has curated numerous exhibits for the Northern Manhattan Arts Alliance, including Women in the Heights: The Human Essence, and commissions for the New York Women’s Foundation, El Museo del Barrio and many more institutions. We honor Andrea Arroyo for a distinguished career as a visual artist and her continued mentorship of emerging artists.

WaHI stands for “Washington Heights and Inwood,” two neighborhoods of Upper Manhattan in New York City. The term was coined by Eduardo Gómez, founder of the WaHI Online community web site, in 2002. Eduardo, born and raised in WaHI, serves as a Website Specialist at UN Women, New York since July 2010 and has worked as a Web and Database Content Specialist for UNIFEM, New York, New York; as Communications Associate/Webmaster for International Planned Parenthood Federation, Western Hemisphere Region; as a Grants and Contracts Specialist at the Population Council; and collaborated as Editor of “Newsline” of People with AIDS Coalition of New York.

Mr. Gómez holds a BS on Materials Science and Engineering and a degree in City and Regional Planning from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. In addition to creating the successful WaHI Online community website back in 2002, Eduardo, a Washington Heights native, has been tirelessly, selflessly and quietly supporting the arts uptown by promoting the Uptown Arts Stroll through WaHI Online, and creating and managing the Northern Manhattan Arts Alliance and the Uptown Arts Stroll websites. We honor Eduardo Gómez for his immeasurable and generous contributions to community arts and for his commitment to culture in the Washington Heights and Inwood.
Lin-Manuel Miranda is the Tony-winning composer-lyricist of Broadway’s In the Heights. In the Heights received four 2008 Tony Awards (Best Orchestration, Best Choreography and Best Musical), with Miranda receiving a Tony Award for Best Score, as well as a nomination for Best Leading Actor in a Musical. In the Heights won a 2009 Grammy Award for its Original Broadway Cast Album and was a Finalist for the 2009 Pulitzer Prize in Drama.

Lin-Manuel is also the co-composer (with Tom Kitt), and co-lyricist (with Amanda Green) of Broadway’s Bring It On: the Musical. His latest musical, Hamilton, had its world debut (with book, music and lyrics by Mr. Miranda, in addition to him playing the title role) at the Public Theater in 2015. The production will go to Broadway at the Richard Rodgers Theater in July 2015.

Lin-Manuel has received the ASCAP Foundation’s Richard Rodgers New Horizons Award and is a National Arts Club Medal of Honor recipient. In 2009, Miranda received the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, from Yeshiva University, the youngest recipient of such an honor in their 123-year history. He is a Council Member of The Dramatists Guild, serves on the board of Young Playwrights Inc. and was appointed by Mayor Bill de Blasio to New York City’s Theater Subdistrict Council.

Lin-Manuel’s TV and film credits include The Sopranos, House, Modern Family, The Odd Life of Timothy Green and 200 Cartas. He received his B.A. from Wesleyan University in 2002. Lin Manuel makes our community proud! Go Lin-Manuel!

Witty, charming, powerful and sexy are just a few of the many sentiments expressed about this forceful fixture on the New York acting scene. Ty Jones is the Producing Artistic Director of the Classical Theatre of Harlem. Mr. Jones was in the highly celebrated production of Enron and won an OBIE award for his portrayal of Archibald in the Classical Theatre of Harlem’s revival of the critically acclaimed off-Broadway production, The Blacks: A Clown Show. Also for the Classical Theatre of Harlem, Mr. Jones received Audelco Nominations for his performances in Macbeth, Trojan Women, Ain’t Supposed to Die a Natural Death and won Best Actor for his portrayal of Nat Turner in Emancipation: Chronicles of the Nat Turner Rebellion.

Mr. Jones Broadway debut was in the role of Lt. Byers in Judgment at Nuremberg. He appeared in the Tony Award winning production of Henry IV with Ethan Hawke and Kevin Kline and was in Julius Caesar directed by Tony Award winner Daniel Sullivan. His film credits include Heaven's Fall with Timothy Hutton and Anthony Mackie, the award-winning Kiss it up to God, and he starred in Kairos - a short feature by award-winning director Shanti Thakur.

As a writer, Mr. Jones’ play Emancipation: Chronicles of the Nat Turner Rebellion premiered for the award-winning Classical Theatre of Harlem. He produced the off-Broadway hit, CREATION: A Clown Show starring Lucas Caleb Rooney and directed by Orlando Pabotoy. We are honoring Ty Jones for his outstanding career as an actor, producer and director on stage and in film, and for his significant contributions to advance the arts uptown.
