2017 UPTOWN ARTS STROLL KICK-OFF
WEDNESDAY, MAY 31

THE 2017 UPTOWN ARTS STROLL IS FINALLY HERE!

Welcome everyone to our 15th Uptown Arts Stroll in Washington Heights-Inwood and since 2015 in West Harlem! The Stroll celebrates the rich cultural arts diversity throughout Northern Manhattan with scores of exhibitors and performances in June from West 133rd to West 220th Street. This year’s poster contest received the most entries in its history, 40, and artists from all nations and backgrounds submitted outstanding works of art that captured the true meaning of inclusion and diversity that symbolizes uptown’s dynamic arts and cultural scene. We have 150 cultural events, 45 exhibitions, and 22 open studios this year’s guide and more, which were submitted after the printed deadline. Please visit www.artstroll.com for more activities!

We thank the United Palace and Mike Fitelson, Executive Director of the United Palace of Cultural Arts, for hosting the opening reception on Wednesday, May 31st from 6:00-8:30pm at this exquisite and historic community landmark. We also congratulate this year’s honorees Elvis Nolasco, Patricia Cruz, Elizabeth Lorris-Ritter and Maggie Hernandez-Knight, and thank them for their outstanding contributions to arts and culture in Washington Heights-Inwood and West Harlem.

Northern Manhattan will once again be the center of everything arts-related for the next month with over 150 cultural events. This year the annual open studios will take place over two weekends – Saturday, June 10th and June 17th – and for the first time we’ll have ArtStrollstice on Wednesday, June 21st. Among many more exciting happenings during the 2017 Uptown Arts Stroll are countless outdoor films and live music, theater, dance, spoken word, walking tours, family-friendly events in northern Manhattan parks and events for seniors and children.

West Harlem filled our guide’s exhibitions and events and we are proud to partner with the Harlem School of the Arts and Eric Pryor, President of HSA, to bring you this year’s Uptown Arts Stroll closing reception on Wednesday, June 28th from 6:00-8:30pm. Please join us for a great evening of music, art and more from HSA as we close the curtain on the 15th Uptown Arts Stroll.

The Stroll is made possible by the strong community buy-in and hard work of our local artists, venues, arts organizations, NoMAA family, and the support from our sponsors, donors, neighborhood partners, local businesses and volunteers. To all of you, our most sincere gratitude!

¡LLEGO EL PASEO DE LAS ARTES 2017!

¡Bienvenidos y bienvenidas a nuestro décimoquinto “el quinceañero” Paseo de las Artes en Washington Heights-Inwood y desde 2015 en West Harlem! El Paseo celebra la rica diversidad de las artes en el alto Manhattan con decenas de exposiciones y eventos culturales durante el mes de junio desde la calle West 135 hasta la calle West 220. El concurso de afiches de este año recibió 40, la mayor cantidad de propuestas en su historia, de artistas de diferentes países y culturas presentaron obras sobresalientes que capturaron el verdadero significado de la inclusión y la diversidad que representa la escena cultural y dinámica del alto Manhattan. Este año, tenemos 150 eventos, 45 exposiciones y 22 estudios abiertos en la guía impresa, y más que estarán después de la fecha límite para la imprenta. Por favor visite www.artstroll.com para más eventos.

Le damos las gracias al United Palace y Mike Fitelson, Director Ejecutivo del United Palace of Cultural Arts, por acoger la recepción de apertura el miércoles 31 de mayo de 6:00pm - 8:30pm en este histórico y emblemático teatro. También felicitamos a los homenajeados del Paseo: Elvis Nolasco, Patricia Cruz, Elizabeth Lorris-Ritter y Maggie Hernández-Knight, y les agradecemos por sus contribuciones a las artes y la cultura en Washington Heights-Inwood y West Harlem.

El alto Manhattan volverá a ser el centro de todo lo relacionado con las artes durante el próximo mes con más de 150 eventos culturales. Este año los estudios abiertos se realizarán durante dos fines de semana – los sábados, 10 y 17 de junio _ y por primera vez tendremos ArtStrollstice el miércoles 21 de junio. Un sinfín de películas al aire libre y música en vivo, teatro, danza, palabra hablada, paseos guiados, eventos para toda la familia en los parques del alto Manhattan y también para personas de tercera edad y niños, se cuentan entre muchas más emocionantes durante el Paseo de 2017.

West Harlem llenó la guía con exposiciones y eventos culturales y estamos orgullosos de asociarnos con la Harlem School of the Arts y Eric Pryor, Presidente de HSA, para traer la clausura del Paseo de este año que tendrá lugar el miércoles, 28 de junio de 6:00-8:30pm. Por favor únanse a nosotros para una gran noche de música, arte y más en HSA mientras que bajamos el telón de la décimoquinta edición del Paseo de las Artes. El Paseo se hace posible gracias al gran apoyo de la comunidad y el esfuerzo de nuestros artistas locales, espacios, organizaciones artísticas, NoMAA y su familia, y el apoyo de nuestros patrocinadores, donantes, socios del vecindario, negocios locales y voluntarios. ¡A todos ustedes, nuestra más sincera gratitud!

United Palace
Elvis Nolasco began his acting career in a small theater room at George Washington High School in Washington Heights. Soon after receiving formal training, Elvis was cast in the hit comedy I LIKE IT LIKE THAT with Lauren Valez and Rita Moreno. Mr. Nolasco was then cast by Spike Lee for the film CLOCKERS with Mekhi Phifer and Delroy Lindo. From this strong foundation, Elvis started building a line of great performances in several independent hits, including a critically acclaimed role in the film IN SEARCH OF A DREAM, which is the number one grossing independent Latino film. He has appeared as a guest star on many hit TV series over the years, and had a recurring role in the series MIRACLE BOYS.

Mr. Nolasco continues to work on stage where his performances receive rave reviews. Elvis shot a series regular in the HBO pilot DA BRICK, directed by Spike Lee and executive produced and written by John Ridley. He had a memorable role in Spike Lee’s feature films THE SWEET BLOOD OF JESUS and OLD BOY. Elvis was recently cast in the award winning and critically acclaimed ABC anthology series AMERICAN CRIME by John Ridley where he was extolled for his performances playing different characters in each season. In season one of AMERICAN CRIME, Elvis played the part of Carter Nix, a lost soul suffering from mental illness and drug addiction, and in the second season he portrayed Chris Dixon, a passionate high school principal.

Mr. Nolasco recently shot a series regular role in the Kathryn Bigelow/Carolyn Strauss produced HBO pilot MOGADISHU, MN and will soon play a supporting role in the Forest Whitaker and Pharrell produced ROXANNE ROXANNE from director Michael Larnell, which premiered at the 2017 Sundance Film Festival. He had a memorable role in Spike Lee’s feature films.

Patricia Cruz began her term as Executive Director of Harlem Stage in 1998. Ms. Cruz is responsible for overseeing programming and administrative management as well as long-range planning, fundraising, fiscal management and program development. Over the past two decades, she has secured over $2 million in endowments, substantially expanded programs and audiences, and successfully completed a $26 million Campaign for Harlem Stage to restore and secure the 30-year old arts institution.

The highlight of her tenure is securing and renovating a historically landmarked 100-year old gatehouse building of the Croton Aqueduct System, across the street from the current Aaron Davis Hall facility. Following a two-year renovation, The Gatehouse now provides a new state-of-the-art theatre and offices for Harlem Stage and the project, completed in 2006, serves as an important catalyst for economic and neighborhood development to the surrounding area. All of the activities were made possible through public and private partnerships designed to expand services to artists and the community and made Harlem Stage one of the most financially stable arts groups in the city.

Ms. Cruz was Deputy Director for Programs for The Studio Museum in Harlem where she directed the planning and management of all Studio Museum programs from 1989 to 1998. She developed the acclaimed Vital Expressions in American Art series, which presented major artists, scholars and performers for over twelve years. Ms. Cruz started at the Studio Museum in 1982 as Director of Development, supervising all aspects of the organizations public and private sector fundraising. She also served as Acting Director in 1988 and 1994. Ms. Cruz has forty years experience in arts management. She serves on the Tony Nominating Committee and is a past President of The New York Foundation for the Arts.
Elizabeth Lorris Ritter is a 34-year resident of Washington Heights and an ardent supporter of the arts. As the Chair of Community Board 12’s Parks & Cultural Affairs Committee, Liz is a powerful voice for arts funding and programming in northern Manhattan, including early advocacy to the Upper Manhattan Empowerment Zone for the funding, which helped create the Northern Manhattan Arts Alliance, and longstanding efforts with the NYC Department of Cultural Affairs to get uptown on the map.

Ms. Ritter is the founding President of the Hudson Heights Owners Coalition, the original fiscal sponsor of the Uptown Arts Stroll that she helped co-found with Martin Collins, Mike Fitelson, Zead Ramadan and the late Homer Young Kennedy. Thanks to that first Uptown Arts Stroll, Liz bought her first piece of art, now part of her large and highly eclectic collection of work by local and international artists. There’s hardly an uptown arts initiative or organization in which Liz isn’t involved in some way, as a contributor, participant, donor, booster, or behind-the-scenes matchmaker; she continues to foster arts and community-building through the publication of a weekly-ish eblast of community events (and occasional activist musings). Liz has used art for political statements, including pop-up theater in the subway, and a rainbow installation on the GWB following the suicide of Tyler Clementi.

Ms. Ritter currently serves as UP Theater Company’s Board President. She is a published writer of essays and poetry, an exhibited photographer, a teacher of Improv, a preacher of sermons, an avid crocheter, and a singer in community choirs. Liz’s greatest creative endeavors are her 27-year (and counting!) marriage to Barry, and their two fabulous kids, Tina & David, competent, moral, and civically engaged adults who are gainfully employed in their respective fields of study.

Maggie Hernández-Knight is a local resident, born and raised in Washington Heights and best known for her brightly colored abstract paintings. However, Maggie’s creative life did not begin in visual art. In fact, over a lifetime, Maggie has used her creativity to reinvent herself many times. Her first love was classical ballet. Ms. Hernandez started formal training at age eight and worked as a student teacher starting at age 15. Alongside dance, Ms. Hernández worked primarily in banks and was the youngest-ever assistant supervisor at a Venezuelan bank in midtown at age 19. Maggie landed at the Fashion Institute of Technology where she became an abstract artist and it was there that she discovered a passion for strong color and movement and developed the iconography of contrasting shapes, bold strokes, crosses, spheres, lines, and drips often visible in her work.

Within a 10-year period, the “tortured artist” transformed herself to wife, mother, and personal development workshop leader. She became a certified life coach and published a book about her healing journey. In 2013, Maggie left the banking world for good and opened JourneySpace, a studio offering a suite of dance and movement classes at 220 Cabrini Blvd. Ms. Hernández infused her classes with personal development to help students find inspiration and strength. As a result, they transformed themselves into confident, empowered dancers supported by a community that formed within the studio. The arts proved to be a great healer and unifier at JourneySpace.

In February 2017, the studio closed its doors to breathe life in what came next for Maggie, ButterflyMyst LLC, which built upon her foundational experiences and combined her love of the arts with personal development and community building. Maggie offers self-empowerment courses, art-making workshops, and her own brand of ballet barre, boundlessBARRE www.butterflymyst.com.

Film Works Alfresco & Live Music
In partnership w/ Inwood Art Works inaugural free outdoor summer cinema series, NoMAA presents Son Jarocho a regional folk musical style of Mexican sound from Veracruz. It represents a fusion of indigenous, Spanish & African musical elements, reflecting the population that evolved in the region from Spanish colonial times. Following the performance is La Leyenda de la Llorona an animated adventure comedy en Español with English subtitles. Based on a famous Mexican legend, a group of kids must stop the ghost of a woman whose guilt over the drowning of her own children leads her to abduct youngsters who wander the woods at night.
